

Top 10 Reasons why your business needs cyber liability insurance

Mitigating the risks that come with being a custodian of data while embracing the opportunities that technology presents is key to building cyber resilient businesses.

Becoming more resilient to cyber risks in an age of digital disruption increasingly means understanding the full scope of cyber governance responsibilities.

Aon provides 10 compelling reasons why every business, regardless of size or ownership, that has a network, an internet connection and holds sensitive or personally identifiable data and sensitive company IP, needs cyber liability insurance:

The Aon Cyber Risk team works with clients to improve your proactive posture to cyber risk threats, and respond more effectively in the event of an attack with an integrated approach to managing and mitigating the systemic risk of cyber threats.

Worried about your exposure to cyber risks? Complete Aon's cyber diagnostic tool to assess your risk.

Talk to Aon about managing your business exposure to cyber risks

To read the full article, click here

Aon South Africa (Pty) Ltd is an Authorised Financial Services Provider (FSP #20555).

Risk. Reinsurance. Human Resources.

27 June 2017